Important details & next steps

Below is what's not included in this estimate, our methodology for the U.S. comparison, and how to move forward toward a personalized real quote.

Not included in this estimate

- International flights (we can recommend booking partners)
- Meals beyond what's included in your accommodation
- Personal medications & over-the-counter items
- Travel insurance (strongly recommended for international medical travel)
- Companion accommodations & meals (we can quote separately)

U.S. comparison — methodology

The U.S. estimated cost of $11,000+ reflects the average self-pay price based on Healthcare Bluebook 2024 avg, premium IOL bilateral. Costs in the U.S. vary significantly by region, surgeon, and case complexity. This estimate excludes any insurance contribution, as international medical travel typically involves self-pay patients.

Consultation deposit policy

To confirm your medical consultation, a $99 USD deposit is required. This deposit blocks the surgeon's calendar and ensures your consultation receives dedicated preparation time.

If you proceed with the procedure: the $99 is credited toward your final invoice.

If the surgeon determines you are not a suitable candidate: the $99 is refunded in full within 5 business days.

If you do not attend the scheduled consultation (no-show): the deposit is non-refundable.

Next steps

- 1 Review this sample. Reach out with any questions — your assigned coordinator is available via WhatsApp or email.
- 2 Use the calculator. The interactive calculator on our Costs and Estimates page lets you adjust hotel and recovery preferences to get a personalized estimate range.
- 3 Book your medical consultation ($99). Schedule a 30-minute video call with your specialist surgeon. During the call you'll share your existing studies and diagnosis, and the doctor will confirm candidacy and finalize your personalized quote.
- 4 Receive your final quote in writing. Within 24–48 hours after your consultation you'll receive a finalized PDF — like this one but with confirmed pricing for your specific case.
